Hi Val,

This is a follow-up to Abe's response to you yesterday afternoon. Here is where we are as of this morning.

NESHAP subpart W:

We completed a redo of first four sections that went to Reid last week.

We are working on sections 5 (for Reid) and section 6 (for Val). We are putting all the economic impact in section 6 as you requested at our meeting.

We expected to have drafts of 5 and 6 to you and Reid by now but as Abe indicated a lady called 'Irene' slowed us a bit. I expect to have drafts of 5 (Reid) and 6 (Val) before tomorrow afternoon. If that schedule changes I'll let you know tomorrow.

(b) (6) - Personal Privacy, Non-responsive

Thanks for your help and support in working with us.

Harry

Hi Val,

I called you last week to arrange for that discussion. In the absence of our discussion, we proceeded to avoid any waste of time. However, I have very good news for you. We took your comments and suggestions at heart and we are very close to providing you and Reid with a revised and improved cost assessment chapter. Your comments were clear and to the point, and that have helped. One thing has delayed us, is the power loss at couple of our offsite employees because of the hurricane.

Harry will follow up with you, I am sure.
